OBITUARY.
Mrs. Timothy Dwight.

Mrs. Timothy Dwight, 87, the widow of President Dwight of Yale, died at her home at 55 Hillhouse avenue, New Haven, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Dwight survived her husband by three years. She was Miss Jane Wakeman Skinner and married the professor of theology at Yale in 1848.

When Timothy Dwight (who was a native of Norwich), served as president of the university from 1866 to 1895, Mrs. Dwight acted as hostess at many important social affairs. Every Yale man after 1880 knew Mrs. Dwight. When her husband was president they occupied a house where the music school had been built on the corner of College and Elm streets.

Funeral services were held at her residence, 55 Hillhouse avenue, Friday afternoon.

Walter H. Young, died Thursday afternoon at his home in Waterford after a long illness. He was born in Waterford and was a carpenter. He was 67 years old and is survived by his wife.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Have Lively Social.
At 7 o'clock Friday evening, following the bean supper and the meeting of all the Bible study groups of the Y. M. C. A. for a stereopticon lecture on the life of Christ, an auction sale was held.

The boys brought all sorts of things to be sold, such as books, skates, baseballs, games, etc. These were auctioned off with a good deal of humorous side play at the expense of the buyers. The money went to those who brought in the articles. About 40 boys were present and enjoyed themselves thoroughly until 8 o'clock. Many requested that another such affair be held soon.

Next Friday each Bible study club will present an amateur act in the Y. M. C. A. hall for the entertainment of the other members of the boys' division. A prize of candy will be given for the best act.

Sand For Sugar.
A well known employee of one of the big department stores was the recipient of what he thought was five pounds of sugar but which was in reality 5 pounds of sand. When asked about it the next day he claimed he lost the bag of sugar while riding on the trolleys and had been busy telephoning Friday trying to locate same. But the wise boy can tell that to the dickie birds. His friends do not swallow it.

LUNCH PUBLIC HEALTH ADVERT CURED HIS RHEUMATISM

Norwich, Saturday, Nov. 22, 1919

VARIOUS MATTERS

Discussion of a widening and broadening of the service for public health is being held Friday evening in the parlor at the Community Center on Main street, called by the public health committee of the Norwich industrial board, which Mrs. Y. K. Tingley is chairman. A meeting on the same subject was held last week.

Rev. J. H. Selden presided Friday evening as Mrs. Tingley could not be present. Those attending were representatives of various organizations and institutions which would be interested in public health and welfare work.

Dr. Hugh B. Campbell, superintendent of the tuberculosis sanatorium, spoke of three important needs in the health work of the city—improved housing facilities, more public health nurses and a day camp for children.

Rev. W. A. Keefe, pastor of St. Mary's church, described the health work that had been done by industrial interests in Plainfield, where he was pastor before coming to Norwich.

Supt. F. Leon Hutchins of the William W. Backus hospital spoke of the hospital could do in the public health work and said the one big need was a pathological laboratory at the hospital, large enough and well equipped enough and well enough supported with funds so that a pathologist could expect to find in charge of it. Such a pathological laboratory could render a most important public service. The Backus hospital has only limited facilities along the line now, but what it has it gladly offers for the use of any committee that might be formed for the community health work.

Joseph Hutchins, who is in charge of the nursing profession, said that more enter the nursing profession, for we are coming to the point where the nurse is one of the most essential persons in the community.

Mrs. George D. Coit, who represented the United Workers, reported a vote taken by them at a meeting Friday in which they favored the employment of a visiting housekeeper for the city and would be willing to aid in directing her, provided the funds could be secured.

B. P. Bishop, president of the town school committee, spoke of their willingness to co-operate through the schools in any work that might be undertaken, and Principal Murphy described what is done through the medical inspection and the school nurse.

Mr. Charles W. Bishop, in connection with this Mrs. John P. Huntington reported on the plan of work in the schools in New London, where the work is under the health department, and takes care of all children, both public and parochial school pupils.

City Health Officer Dr. E. J. Brophy commended the suggestion for a complete pathological laboratory at the Backus hospital and said this would clear up the whole situation.

On motion of Wallace S. Allis, a committee of five to take up the matter of the tuberculosis commission was voted. That Rev. Mr. Selden name a committee of five to take up concrete suggestions and a possible line of activity, to report later.

Those attending the meeting were Rev. J. H. Selden, Rev. W. A. Keefe, Rev. W. H. Kennedy, Dr. E. J. Brophy, Dr. Hugh B. Campbell, Miss Elizabeth Meade, Mrs. Meade, Mrs. John P. Huntington, Miss Charlotte Albertson, Mrs. R. R. Graham, Mrs. George D. Coit, B. P. Bishop, J. B. Stanton, James F. Murphy, Mrs. W. A. Norton, Frank J. Mitchell, Wallace S. Allis, Miss Faith Leavens, Miss Nancy Lucas, Miss Amy Cogswell, Rev. C. A. Norrhorp, F. Leon Hutchins, Miss Edith E. Young, Miss Louise French, Miss Matilda Butts and Mrs. Willis Austin.
